

Businesses that evolve will survive. Will yours?

The biggest threat to manufacturers today is cybersecurity. And with COVID-19, it's just gotten a lot worse.

Current Challenges:

- No plan for impending cyber shock
- More endpoints and a fragmentation of responsibility
- More remote work
- Financial and liquidity limitations

Providing Solutions:

- Secure your email communications and file transfers
- Scale security with cloud-based solutions to empower industry like never before
- Launch a remote work plan including cybersecurity
- Consolidate cybersecurity vendor to cut costs

The Benefit:

- Adapt to changing threat landscape
- Lower risk of IP loss
- Invent better processes
- Faster innovation
- Free up budget

When the pandemic hit, manufacturing was not immune.

How the 2020 pandemic changed things

With social distancing requirements on manufacturing floors, global supply networks in flux, and countries around the world disrupted by lockdowns and trade embargoes, threat actors are busy exploiting every possible angle. Be intentional and embrace the opportunity to evolve with true threat protection and encryption for email, plus the confidence to send documents securely from anywhere to anywhere. Trust your business evolution to the AppRiver Secure Cloud.

The Worst Is Avoidable:

All the ways manufacturers have responded to the pandemic supply shock have created a cybersecurity shock, and now is the time to secure their endpoints and sensitive communication channels—especially email.

A vast majority of those attacks happen through business email. And most of those, via phishing attempts.

AppRiver Secure Cloud: Addresses weak links in the supply chain

The AppRiver Secure Cloud is custom-designed to help the manufacturing industry, now and well into the rapidly changing future. It's one cloud with everything organizations need to defend against cyberthreats, secure data and communications and send files with confidence:

- ✔ Email threat protection to guard against zero-day attacks, impersonation attempts, and other malicious threats
- ✔ Automated, transparent email encryption (with no user involvement)
- ✔ Simple, secure file share with rights management for large files of any type
- ✔ Consolidated platform for easy management and control, and simplified scalability when needed
- ✔ Proactive threat awareness with 24/7 threat analysis and phenomenal support

With Secure Cloud, manufacturing organizations:

- Achieve order amidst chaos
- Ensure confidentiality and integrity of digital information
- Improve sharing and decision making
- Embrace technology without the fear of risk or exposure
